Luxuriously Appointed Train Will Make trip Between Edmonton and Winnipeg in 28 hours

With the inauguration of the 28 hour service between Edmonton and Winnipeg on Sunday, June 18, the G. T. P. will place on the road an equipment of dining and sleeping cars second to none in use on any of the Western lines.

Two of the cars, a diner and a sleeper arrived in the city last evening on the regular train from Winnipeg. A trial was being made with the new cars before they are placed on the regular service.

Both cars are planned to give the greatest comfort possible to the traveler as well as convenience to those in charge of them. They are electrically lighted throughout and the upholstery in the sleeping car is of green material with a most attractive pattern.

The sleeper will furnish accommodation for 49 passengers. In addition to a drawing room and a private compartment, the former accommodating four passengers and the latter five, there are ten upper and ten lower berths in the main part of the car.

The Grand Trunk Pacific now has an upper berth that is better than a lower one as the upper berths in the new cars are furnished with springs beneath the mattresses, which add materially to the comfort.

JOHNSTONE BOY FOUND IN THE HUDSONS BAY RESERVE

LITTLE TOT OF THREE YEARS LOST IN BUSH FOR THIRTY HOURS, WITHOUT FOOD OR WATER; LOCATED AND RETURNED TO PARENTS.

After having been without food or water for 30 hours, Winston Johnstone, the three-year-old boy who wandered away from his home on Tuesday, and lost his way in the thick underbrush of the Hudson Bay Reserve, was discovered last evening at 9 o'clock by J. N. White of 717 Fourteenth street. Cheering crowds of boys, scouts, members of the militia and of the R. N. W. M. P. and volunteer citizens greeted the youngster as he, at the close of the long search which was first organized by the boy scouts, was carried away in his father's arms. The lad was discovered near Sixteenth street on the Hudson's Bay Reserve, about three quarters of a mile southwest of his home.

The party of volunteers with whom he was working had already travelled over a mile and a half over the reserve when the youngster was sighted by Mr. White. The boy was shivering, up-

AMERICAN FARMERS AFTER HOMESTEADS

FOUR APPLICATIONS FOR LAND LOCATED ON BY SQUATTER OVER SIX YEARS AGO

West of Belvedere and Lac la Poudre, close to the banks of the Pembina river, is a much sought after quarter section squatted six years ago by a settler who cannot be located, and no fewer than four of the United States farmers who have travelled through the district this year have made application at the local land office for permission to file. With many acres of river bottom, land ready for the plow and soil, equal to the most fertile in all the Pembina valley, it has been coveted by every one of the land hungry newcomers who have passed through the district during the spring.

Although the squatter, whose roughly built shack is the only landmark of civilization in a wide stretch of territory, deserted his land three years ago, the department is safeguarding his interests, in order that he may have an opportunity to return and renew his residence. Ten days notice is given, and at the end of that time the first of the new settlers to come along with an application, will be granted the privilege of filing. When the period of ten days has expired, there will be an all night, or possibly even a longer session on the land office steps, of the four men who are seeking the choice quarter section.

"The homestead is worth $3,000 or more today, before a stroke of cultivation has been undertaken," said one of the seekers after the coveted homestead in conversation with the Capital this morning. And in years to come it will be a valuable cash mine for the man who is lucky enough to secure it. I am going to come here every day, if need be I would come every day for three months, in order to obtain my claim."

COURT OF REVISION HAS COMPLETED ITS TASK

Only Eleven Out of 113 Appeals Against Land Assessment Allowed—No Decision on Three Cases Court of Appeal Will Sit Next Week

The hearing of the appeals against the assessment was completed this morning with the exception of three cases, those of Mrs. Bete which appeal made on the fact that the hill back of the Queens hotel has fallen away and of Wm. Hogan who appealed on the same grounds and of Mrs. C. R. V. R. which has developed into a legal question. The last will not be heard until a week at least. Those of Mrs. Letu and Wm. Hogan will be finished this afternoon.

The commissioners went over to the hill to look at the lots which are under dispute and measured up the length of the land which remains.

There were a total of 113 appeals against the assessment and four lesser agreed to the reduction on four cases eleven were reduced. The appeal for some distance back from the river shore and every indication of the river sand was noted carefully, some places along the bank which the decision of the commissioners on several of the appeals.

FAVORS SUNDAY BAND CONCERTS.

Editor The Capital—Dear Sir: I enclose herewith my cheque for $5.00 as a subscription to the Sunday concert fund.

I am delighted at the position taken up by your paper on this point. Having had the opportunity of studying this question in England, in Paris, and in Berlin, I know of what immense benefit to the health and morals of the people every means of rational amusement in the open air is.

Contrast the German workman sitting at Schlaessence or Potsdam, his family round about him listening to the band, with his English brother, scorching along the roads on his cycle, his throat ached of beer, while wife and family are left behind in the tenement house.

Canada has escaped the great English drags: "Appearances," it were pity to fall a prey to its twin brother—sanctimoniousness.

I am, dear sir, yours faithfully,

Was First Told He Would Be Made Superintendent of Power Plant But This Promise Was Broken

TOOK CHARGE OF GAS PLANT AND WAS LATER DISMISSED

BELIEVES THAT HE LOST POSITION OWING TO FACT THAT HE RECOMMENDED PURCHASE OF 2000 K.W. UNIT FOR POWER PLANT WHEN COMMISSIONER BOULLION WAS FIGHTING FOR ANOTHER TYPE.

When Utilities Commissioner Bouillon says that he did not promise to make J. A. Deerwester, superintendent of the municipal power plant last February, he deliberately misrepresents the facts of a conversation in the presence of Mayor Armstrong and Commissioner Butchart, according to Mr. Deerwester, who has been deposed as superintendent of the gas plant at the instance of Mr. Bouillon. The supplemental statement of Mr. Bouillon that he was not responsible for Mr. Deerwester's leaving the municipal service is also branded as a falsehood. Mr. Deerwester is still in charge of the gas plant and will be until July 1, when he will be succeeded by Mr. Melting, having been notified last Saturday by Messrs. Bouillon and Butchart that his services were no longer required.

"I came to Edmonton, December 28, last," said Mr. Deerwester, in a statement to the Capital today, "and immediately entered the employ of the city as superintendent of the gas plant. I had been here about a week when I was approached by Commissioner Butchart as to my knowledge of steam. He inquired if I was keeping in touch with the whole power plant and he instructed me to familiarize myself with all the conditions down there. This was the first intimation to me that Mr. McNaughton was to be relieved as superintendent of the plant, which developed in a very short time. I then placed my application with the commissioners for the position about to be made vacant. I did this request. Mr. Bouillon suggested that I be made acting superintendent with the understanding that if I made good that I would be made permanent, with the additional provision that if I could not handle the gas engine in this position I was to resume my former duties as superintendent of the gas plant. It was understood, however, that I would not accept the position of acting superintendent of the power plant unless I had given the World's review a place permanently. This may be verified by Mayor Armstrong."

It can be said to the credit of Mr. Deerwester that during the two months he acted as superintendent of the power plant, the water, light or power was never shut off once, and he displayed excellent qualifications for the important position.

Dismissed as Acting Superintendent.

"On Saturday afternoon, April 15," continued Mr. Deerwester, Mayor Armstrong and Commissioners Bouillon and Butchart called at the power house and informed me that my duties as acting superintendent would cease the following day. Mr. Bouillon stating that I was only placed in the position pending the selection of a new man, with the understanding that I was to return to the position of superintendent of the gas plant.

"The gas engine up to this time had been in operation all right. I claim the necessary credentials to hold the position, in the form of an Alberta engineer's certificate. I took this matter up with Commissioner Butchart and told him that I expected to consult Attorney Biegar, Mr. Butchart laughed and remarked that Mr. Biegar was an exceptionally good lawyer and intimated that if there was any "fixing" he would see the man to see. He advised me to take the matter up with City Solicitor Brown.

"When I was appointed acting superintendent of the power plant and up to this date I have never had charge of the operating end of the engine. The gas engine has been and is now in charge of Mr. Melting, who represents the Allis-Chalmers company of Milwaukee, Wis. I have never had an opportunity to operate the engine at all, although changes have been made under my direction. Any man or engineer under my charge at the plant will verify my charge at the plant will verify it can be said to the credit of Mr. Deerwester that during the two months he acted as superintendent of the power plant, the water, light or power was never shut off once, and he displayed excellent qualifications for the important position.

CALGARY MILITARY CAMP SCENE OF A TRAGEDY

Calgary, June 15. (Special to The Capital)—Alex Gibson, of No. 4 company, army service corps, was killed at the military camp this morning when a team of hay into camp when the horses became wild. The animal lodged and fell upon him throwing him under the horses' hoofs. The animals began to lash out and before Gibson could be rescued he was dead; his face and body being literally kicked to a jelly. A sad feature of the tragedy was that R. Gibson, a brother in the same company, was an eye witness. He became hysterical when he saw the mangled body. The young man's parents live at 53 Francis street, west, Fort William, Ont.

Edmonton Portland Cement

CAPITAL STOCK $1,500,000

Co., Limited

LIEUT. GOV. G. H. V. BULYEA

Chairman of the Board

ARTICLE NO. 15

The purpose of this article is to briefly set forth the principles and methods of business upon which the Edmonton Portland Cement Company was organized and is now proceeding.

Success in anything is always simple and failure is always difficult. Any man who fails always makes trouble enough for himself and every one else for a dozen successes. And the principles of success are few and simple. Just as all the moral and civil law of the whole world is founded on the ten and simple Commandments of the decalogue, which any child can understand, so all the intricate machinery of the world's business is founded on a few simple business principles which any man can understand, who is willing to accept the mandates of common-sense and honesty. It is in knowing and respecting these few principles that success lies. Too intimate knowledge of things that are dangerous is the alphabet of failure. As Josh Billings wisely remarked: "It is better not to know so much, than to know so many things that ain't so."

An old story will serve to illustrate the point. An ocean steamer was coming into port, and an honored visitor was, with much interest, watching the harbor pilot bring the great ship through the winding course, and around the rocks and shallows. At last he said to the pilot: "Sir, you seem to know every rock and reef and shallow in this whole harbor." And the pilot answered: "I know the channel."

In business it is the same; the man who succeeds "knows the channel." No man ever made a success by merely knowing what NOT to do. He is the yoked who sits around the corner grocery and reforms the nation. Success comes from knowing what TO do, and DOING it. And, as has already been said, the fundamental principles of success are few in number. For the purposes of this article it is sufficient to mention the three which lie at the foundation of any successful enterprise. They are these:

1. A practical and profitable business proposition.
2. Ample capital.
3. Good management.

In this article we shall briefly explain how these principles have been observed in the organization and promotion of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company, Limited.

1. The "practical and profitable business proposition" of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company is this: The Company owns what is probably the largest marl deposit in the world and an immense bed of fine blue clay near by. Because of the superior quality and accessible form of these materials, true Portland Cement can be manufactured on this property at a cost, as determined by the best Cement Engineers in Canada or the States, of 78 cents per barrel. The supply is sufficient to operate a 1,500 barrel mill for at least 40 years. The present demand for Portland Cement in the Edmonton district is 400,000 barrels annually. With the completion of the Grand Trunk and Canadian Northern this demand will increase. The development of the country to the North and West of Edmonton will create a demand for Portland Cement of at least 400,000 barrels per year indefinitely.

The price of Portland Cement in this district is the Eastern mill price plus the freight rate to Edmonton, or $1.25 plus $1.85, amounting to $3.10. So long as the Edmonton Portland Cement Company keeps its output well within the demand of the Edmonton district, it can sell its entire output at its mill door for at least $3.05 per barrel, less a freight rate of 25 cents per barrel. This means a profit of $2.02 per barrel.

The Edmonton Portland Cement Company is building a mill with a capacity of 1,500 barrels per day. As a running institution this means an actual output of 1,200 barrels per day for 260 days allowing for Sundays, holidays, accidents, etc.) or 312,000 barrels per year. This is 100,000 barrels annually, LESS than the demand in the Edmonton district alone, which means that the Edmonton Portland Cement Company can sell its entire output at its mill door, for the Edmonton market price and at a profit of $2.02 per barrel, or $640,000 on the year's business.

2. Ample Capital. The Edmonton Portland Cement Company will begin business with capital sufficient to build its great plant (which will cost $600,000) and with a working capital of $700,000—sufficient for eight months' operations. There will be no bonded indebtedness nor debts of any kind. The investment of the shareholders will be represented by an absolutely debt free institution, with an earning power of 40 per cent. on its entire capital stock, and no fixed charges for interest. This point is being dealt with but briefly here, but a subsequent article, No. 17, will set out more clearly the enormous and permanent advantages to the shareholders in a manufacturing institution, of keeping absolutely out of debt.

3. Good management. This also deserves the space of a special article and will be dealt with in detail in Article No. 18. We will here touch but briefly upon the essential elements of Good Management, which in the organization of an Industrial Institution, are three:

- a. Good Promotion.
- b. Good Organization.
- c. Good Methods.

The public has graciously assumed that this institution is being promoted worthily of its character and possibilities.

Good organization began with sound and permanent plans. These are set out in the Company's prospectus, and have been discussed at length in these articles.

The next step was the selection of a constructor and engineer. And for this important responsibility the men were chosen who have built more successful cement plants than any other constructors either in Canada or the States, Messrs. R. D. Hassan and T. J. Klusko.

The third step in good organization was the formation of a board of directors made up of the best men in this community who could be absolutely depended upon to administer the affairs of the Company wisely and with an eye single to the interests of its shareholders.

The good methods upon which the Edmonton Portland Cement Company have determined may be included in three statements:

a. To keep out of debt.

b. To keep inside the Edmonton district, thereby keep prices and profits at the maximum.

c. To employ the most perfect, thorough and practical system of business known to modern manufacturing. This includes carefully considered plans of operation and the perfect adjustment of output to market conditions, thorough business methods, prompt collections and the most rigid supervision of expenditures. As to this last, one illustration will be for the present sufficient. The funds of the Company are paid out only upon the order of the board of directors and on approved vouchers signed by three of the directors. Cheques on the Company's bank account can only be issued on a payment of approved vouchers, and these cheques require the signature of two directors.

The foregoing is but an outline of the principles and methods of business upon which this Company is organized, and Articles 16, 17 and 18 will set out these principles and methods in greater detail. These articles will be as follows:

No. 16—On the Business Proposition of the Institution.

No. 17—On the Financial Methods.

No. 18—On the Management.

But the Public is surely now aware that every precaution has been taken to safeguard the shareholders. And those desiring shares can obtain all necessary information by inquiring at the Company's Offices, Rooms 400-1-2 Moser-Ryder Building. Phone 2171.

HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY'S ASSESSMENT INCREASED

ONLY SEVEN APPEALS HAVE BEEN ALLOWED TO DATE—COURT OF REVISION LIST—WILL COMPLETE LIST TODAY.

Resuming the hearing of appeals against the city assessment of 1911 the commissioners, sitting as a court of revision, made more rapid progress yesterday afternoon than at the morning session, materially reducing the list of 113 who had filed protests with City Assessor McMillan. Comparatively few were either present or represented at the meeting, which was held in the council chamber, presiding Mayor Armstrong to remark that if those who had appeared did not appear and show cause the assessment should stand.

But three reductions were ordered by the commissioners from the figures originally returned by the assessor and they were not of a reversing character. Attorney Newell strongly urged a substantial reduction in the assessment on all the lands owned by the Hudson's Bay company in Edmonton, but the commissioners did not see it that way. Last year the company was assessed for $3,303,870 and this year for $1,799,580, making an increase of $1,504,290.

Attorney Newell, representing the Hudson's Bay company, contended that the assessment was too high. "The only way we can assess this property," said Mayor Armstrong, "is to make it proportionate to other property in the same vicinity; that's the best we can do. Other property owners are not coming in here with protests."

"Well, the trouble is," declared Mr. Newell, "that you have been sitting on people here so long that they don't think it worth while to lodge complaint."

Mrs. Bertha Heh, owner of the Queens hotel, protested against the assessment of $62,500 on three lots for the reason that the river bank on her property was crumbling away, leaving the rear of the hotel in a precarious condition. Mrs. Heh said that for seven years she had been trying to induce the city to fill up the river bank but without avail, adding that now she was unable to get even an offer for the property. The commissioners decided to visit the property and ascertain at first hand the grounds for Mrs. Heh's complaint.

Edgar Richardson objected to the assessment of $1,000 a foot on the south 30 feet of lots 43 and 44, block 6, on First street, contending that it was an extravagant increase over last year's assessment, amounting to a raise of 150 per cent. On motion of Mr. Boulton the assessment was reduced from $1,000 to $669.40 a foot. William H. Kestner asked for a reduction of $1,500 on lot 16, block 6, claiming

COMMISSIONER BOULLON RESPONSIBLE FOR DELAY

TELEPHONE SUPERINTENDENT READY TO CONSTRUCT NEW LINES BUT WAS INTERFERED WITH BY COMMISSIONERS—AUTO FOR FIRE CHIEF.

Protesting that the action for which Mr. Bouillon was responsible in calling for tenders to do the work was delaying the laying of conduits in alleys off McDougall avenue and other streets, Superintendent Griffiths, of the municipal telephone department appeared before the city commissioners late yesterday afternoon and urged that some definite be done at once with a view of getting the work under headway.

Superintendent Griffiths told the commissioners it was not necessary to advertise for tenders and award a contract for underground work planned by the telephone department but that the city was provided with ample facilities to start laying the conduits right away. The city could do it at less expense than a contractor would and just as well. Mr. Griffiths said that the engineering department had been doing work of this character.

"By waiting for tenders as called for by the commissioners," meaning Bouillon and Butcher, "we are losing valuable time, and these conduits should be laid without delay," insisted Superintendent Griffiths.

"If the commissioners' instructions had been carried out, tenders would be in now and consequently no occasion for delay," interposed Mr. Bouillon.

"I hold an order in my hand here showing that you commissioners ordered this matter turned over to the engineering department, so it is beyond me," returned the telephone superintendent. "The engineering department can do the work all right."

"The engineering department is very busy at this season of the year, but I believe that if you will see Mr. Lauder, the matter may be arranged to begin the laying of conduits in the near future," suggested the mayor.

"We are all ready to lay the cables," added Superintendent Griffiths, "and I am very anxious to see the work under way."

Commissioner Bouillon moved that the city engineer prepare and submit a report at once covering the subject discussed, with some warmth.

"We have not been able to get the desired information from the telephone department," was Mr. Bouillon's parting shot at Superintendent Griffiths.

City Building Inspector Drabble stating that the reason for recommending acceptance of Nesbitt and Miller's tender for $14,375 for the construction of fire hall No. 4 on Sixteenth street was the well known, established reliability of the firm and the fact that he did not know so much about the Alberta Builders, who were $45 lower on the fire station with a tower. The Alberta Builders submitted a tender to construct the fire hall without a tower for $12,225 and this was accepted, the contract being awarded to that firm.

Three tenders were received to supply the fire department with uniforms. Referred to Chief Lauder.

Chief of Police Esnor asked for leave of absence from June 22, to July 7, during which period he desires to attend a convention of police chiefs in Ottawa. He also requested that $500 be appropriated to cover the expense of the trip. Referred to the city council.

Brown and McMann submitted a proposition for amusements at the city park, $400 for the first year and $150 for the following four years; five per cent of the gross receipts if they provide buildings, to run five years, or ten per cent of the gross receipts if the city provides the buildings, the propositions being based on the city furnishing free light, water and all expenses, also sole rights. The nature of the amusements Messrs. Brown and McMann expect to put on at the park was not stated in their communication. Referred to Commissioners Acre and Gandy.

Real petition was received asking for sidewalks along the south side of Alberta avenue from Kirkness street to the existing grounds. Referred to Commissioner Butcher for investigation and report.

ARE CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTED MURDER

RUTHENIANS ARE COMMITTED FOR TRIAL IN VEGREVILLE—VICTIM
STILL IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Arising out of an assault which occurred at a Ruthenian wedding in the Vegreville district on June 3, charges of attempted murder have been preferred against John Tuzepko and Krosno Kusniuk, two of the wedding guests, who have been committed for trial at Vegreville by H. B. M. Pomeroy, J.P., and will be brought up at the next sittings of the supreme court in October. The victim of the assault, Jas. Joseph Dobbins, is lying in hospital at Vegreville in a precarious condition.

According to the evidence given at the preliminary trial, Dobbins was attacked by the Kusniuk when in the act of stepping into a rig to drive away after the wedding feast, in company with A. E. Gross, a Vegreville photographer who had been engaged to take a number of groups. As Dobbins placed his foot on the bumper step, he was felled by a blow from behind, Kusniuk stepping up to him and dealing him a heavy blow at the back of the head with a stone. Dobbins fell prostrate, and, rushing in, Tuzepko kicked him violently about the head, and for a few minutes the injured man lay in a pool of blood, the Ruthenians crowding in and finally electing the photographer from the rig. Simultaneously some occasion in the fall of 1910.

Dobbins paid no heed to the warning, declared that he "had done nothing to hurt anybody's feelings," and saw no reason for absconding himself from the wedding.

It was not until the wedding day festivities were far advanced that signs of hostility were manifested against him. Mrs. Golly was standing with him in the vicinity of the dancers, when Mrs. Tuzepko left her partner, words: "What does this woman mean?" Dobbins turned away, and not until the breakup of the party was the hostility of the other revellers shown again.

The prisoners will not come up for trial in the supreme court until October next. Kusniuk has been in the country for a period of but six or seven weeks, it was alleged by one of the witnesses, and in the event of a conviction being obtained against him, it is probable that proceedings will be instituted to secure his deportation at the conclusion of his term.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 15.—The sixteenth annual convention of the National Association of Credit Men began in this city today and will continue four days. In the last day the sessions will be transferred to St. Paul. The attendance embraces more than one thousand delegates, representing the leading wholesale houses and manufacturing firms in all parts of the country.

The convention was called to order at 11 o'clock this morning by the president, F. H. McDow of Chicago. Governor Elbert and Mayor Hayes delivered addresses of welcome. Responses in behalf of the visitors were made by H. G. Moore of Kansas City and H. E. Choate of Atlanta.

President McDow delivered his annual address complimenting the delegates on the results they achieved in placing business upon a sounder basis and insuring needed legislation. The address of the president was followed by the report of the secretary-treasurer, Charles E. Meek of New York city.

The afternoon session was devoted to the reports of the standing committees and to addresses by James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway, and H. K. Huntton of Stillwater, addresses on "territoriality" by H. B. McMillan. The session concluded with an all of Winnipeg.

Group of girls with Boyle Woolfolk's Real Musical Comedy "A Winning Miss." Three days commencing Thursday, June 22.

"The distance to be covered by the conduits is a little over two miles, is it not?" inquired Mayor Armstrong.

"Yes, about that," replied Mr. Griffiths.

Commissioner Bouillon, who had been absent from the meeting a few minutes, entered the council chamber at this juncture and resumed his accustomed seat. Superintendent Griffiths repeated that in his opinion it was not necessary to advertise for tenders and award a contract to install conduits.

Mr. Bouillon's motion prevailed and the city engineer will be asked to file an early report with the commissioners.

The commissioners voted to expend $9,500 for a combination motor house and chemical engine and wagon for the fire chief. The Webb Motor company is to get the order, being the lowest bidder. The tender of the Knox Motor company was for $9,750, and the M. C. Watts company for $9,500.

A communication was received from to the mob to draw off. Cross then raised the wounded man from the ground, placed him in the buggy and drove away toward the town, stopping at farm houses along the way to secure water for his patient. In court the photographer identified the men whom he declared had been guilty of the brutal assault.

According to the evidence of Mrs. Mary Golly, sister of the bride, whose wedding was the occasion of the fracas, Dobbins had been warned to keep away from the ceremony by her father, Stephan Schindler, who knew that an assault had been planned. He had overheard a conversation in which threats of this character had been made. John Tuzepko had been heard to declare that he would avenge himself for injuries which he believed himself to have received on a former occasion. Tuzepko avowed that Dobbins had threatened to shoot him on and unceremoniously pushed Dobbins from his position. Three times she displayed her disapproval of the man in this way, and on the third occasion "Dobbins turned to the witness with the

NATION SHOULD PROTECT CHILDREN

NATIONAL CHILD LABOR ASSOCIATION WANTS A NEW CABINET DEPARTMENT PROVIDED

The National Bureau of Child Labor has recently recommended that a Children's bureau should be established in the United States with its head as a part of the president's cabinet at Washington.

A new view of the child in relation to citizenship is gradually becoming stronger upon the horizon, and some are already dreaming of the time when every child will have an equal opportunity to gather the best of citizenship.

It is the right of every child to be well born. Unfortunately the large percentage of children do not make a good choice of parents and their lives are handicapped before they are launched into the world. Two hundred years ago in the City of London, three quarters of all the children born, died before the completion of their fifth year. The percentage has been pushed down until now it is something like 25 instead of 75 per cent.

Even now, throughout the urban districts of America, one-seventh of all the babies born, die before they reach the age of one year.

Milk poisoning, ignorance of mothers as to how to feed and care for children, lack of necessary facilities for surgical and medical treatment, inability to nurse their babies either for physical or economic reasons—these things are the lack of the high rate of mortality among infants.

In addition to these, one great cause of infant mortality, is found in the economic conditions which compel children to work in order to assist the family to meet the every day drain on the purse and to support children young and themselves.

Every child has a right to a glorious future of enjoyment. This seems to have been intended by the Creator. The artificial, forced development of assumed happiness found in the over-rich, but the spontaneous activity and growth of an unexploited and protected childhood.

At the present time, the Department of Neglected Children at Edmonton have a number of children who want the right to grow up under a normal environment and to become good men and women of whom the country will be proud. The younger a child is taken, the more satisfactory the child will become in its foster-home. Later the problem grows more difficult of radical habits and character traits developed often under very bad conditions.

Four little boys under nine months of age, have been found. One little Catholic girl aged 12 years is anxious for a good home, and another Catholic girl aged 5 years, and another boy of 7 and one particularly bright baby boy of 5 months (Catholic).

These children are all anxious for a good home where they will be able to grow to be good citizens. The investments of time and money upon them will be returned a hundred fold in affection as the little ones grow into manhood and womanhood, and in satisfaction as their success in life is watched by the foster-parents.

Fuller particulars of each children can be obtained by writing to the superintendent of Neglected Children at Edmonton.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY TO EDMONTON HUMANE SOCIETY

The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Alberta Humane Society was held in the All Saints' schoolroom on Wednesday, June 13. There was a good attendance and the report of work done by the A. H. S. during the past month was read.

There were several cases of cruelty investigated by the Society and in some instances prosecution and conviction followed; in all cases amelioration of conditions was secured. There were two bad cases of horses and cattle confined in cars of the railroad and left without either food or water for as long as 48 hours, other cases included a charge of driving a lame horse, working a mare with sore shoulders and several minor offences. The A. H. S. was also the means of procuring a merciful release from suffering for various animals, injured beyond hope of recovery and left to die by callous owners.

It is proposed to erect another drinking trough for horses and dogs in the neighborhood of the St. Albert and Stoney Plain roads.

The United States Senate is in the centre of the fight on the reciprocity bill today. Senator McCumber delivered a strong speech against the bill. It is improbable that a vote will be taken before the latter part of the week. Invitations are out for the wedding of Mr. Harold P. Brown, of this city, and Miss Marion, of London, England, which is to take place at McEwain Methodist church on Saturday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, Rev. J. E. Hinchinson officiating.
